

THE FUTURE OF SKINCARE IS BIOTECH

Signum Biosciences was started in 2003 by Dr. Jeffrey Stock and CEO Maxwell Stock. Using Dr. Stock's discoveries from his lab at Princeton University, Signum has created a library of patented, efficacious ingredients.

Two decades of experience in the cosmetic industry inspired us to re-engineer skincare by creating simple, elegant formulations. This is made possible by utilizing our highly effective, novel ingredients that work to promote healthier looking skin.

Our team is comprised of chemists, biologists, and technicians who have collectively brought EPICUTIS from concept to reality. We continually innovate to create novel ingredients and formulations, infusing science at every level of development.

We are excited for you to use EPICUTIS and to experience the benefits our technology yields.

CHANGE IS COMING

Did you know: the United States has not updated cosmetic ingredient regulations since 1938? There are currently only 11 banned ingredients in the US compared to 1,300+ in the European Union.

That's why EPICUTIS formulations are developed to meet the highest standards of the international market. We are the only brand in the professional channel with EWG Verified™ products, and we strive to raise the industry standard continuing to develop the EPICUTIS product line with minimal ingredients, maximum results, and full transparency.
